Models of set 0990 82 "Tankers from German everyday life"

WIKING has brought a touch of summer to the range – the aura of the classics is set to be a real breath of fresh air. Surprising additions among the new models available from specialist shops include the Ford Mustang Cabriolet in sunlight yellow along with the Audi 100 as a police patrol car and the 1939 Opel Blitz tanker in the form of a fire service pump water tender. Other vehicles making their debut include the Hanomag HD5N box truck as well as the Magirus-Deutz as a dumper truck with a square bonnet. The MAN TGL as a flatbed truck with cargo crane in the livery of the TES and the new Beetle cabriolet provide the perfect contrast between two of the very latest vehicles. The launch of the legendary Unimog 411 will fulfil a long-held wish of N-gauge enthusiasts while WIKING has also brought out a limited-edition set of models in 1:87 based on the original vehicles used to carry big brand fuels entitled "Tankers in German everyday life".

MODEL UPGRADES FOR JUNE 2013 WITH EPOCH-MAKING CLASSICS

Classics and youngtimers – there are plenty of attractive creations among the model upgrades for June. The Ford 12 M makes a reappearance along with the legendary VW 181. The hunchbacked Volvo PV 544 is off on carrying cable drums in the colours of Freyaldenhoven. “Summer holidays at the Wannsee” is the name given to the trio of models comprising the VW T1 camper van and two motorcyclists from the early years of WIKING. The Krampe half-pipe tipping trailer is the holiday towing a caravan behind it while the Fiat 1800 in a contemporary bi-coloured design exudes the unique charm of the Italian motor manufacturer. The Porsche 356 Coupé recalls the sporty side of the cars produced during the first decade after the war while the Post Office truck and trailer with the Mercedes-Benz

L 5000 chassis will make collectors’ hearts beat just as fast as the flatbed dumper truck in the form of the mighty Mercedes-Benz Hauber L 6600 from the Ruhr Valley in the livery of “Emil Bölling” and the Magirus S 7500 with the round bonnet in the form of a truck latest addition to the range of agricultural models.
